Webinar Report on Institutional Autonomy: How and Why?

IQAC and autonomy committee of Government College of Arts and Science organised a webinar on "Institutional autonomy: How and why" on 14th June 2021 at 3:00 p.m. The speaker, Professor Usha Mukundan of R. Jhunjhunwala College Mumbai, gave a presentation on the importance of autonomy in colleges. She stated that initially the number of colleges were small and the affiliating University could effectively oversee the working of colleges, act as an examination body and award degrees on their behalf. But in the present scenario when the number of colleges are increasing it is becoming extremely difficult for the affiliating university to manage the different needs of the affiliated colleges. Therefore, colleges should seek academic autonomy to improve the quality of undergraduate education. Some colleges have the potential for offering program of higher level but could not do so. They do not have the freedom to modernise their curriculum or make them globally component and skill oriented to promote employability.

She also innumerate the terms and conditions of an autonomous University or autonomous college that is review existing courses, to reach address of assessment of students performance , conduct of examination and notification of results. Some faculty members asked their queries like should we go for complete autonomy from the beginning or should we go for academic autonomy, will it affect the strength of the college, what is the eligibility criteria for autonomy and the nature of financial assistance and related provisions. She satisfactory answer all the queries.

Dr. Manjusha Molwane put foreword at the beginning of the seminar. Dr. Yugandhara S. Topare introduced the chief guest. Dr. R.S. Kale delivered vote of Thanks. Dr. Talat Shaista Khan compared the webinar.

About webinar

Human resource development is one of the important aspects of nation building. Higher educational institutions (HEI) plays an important role in it. Inculcation of quality culture and quality status among all stakeholders should be the prime objective of HEI. Assessment and Accreditation of higher educational institutions is necessary to understand the quality status. Quality status can be recognized in terms of performance. There are seven parameters framed by NAAC to evaluate performance of HEI. This webinar will be helpful to all affiliated institutions for quality sustenance and development. Guidance by expert speaker and their experiences of accreditation process will help to improve post NAAC accreditations of HEI.

Traffic signals started after 72 days in city

LOKMAT NEWS NETWORK
AURANGABAD, JUNE 3

After relaxations in the lockdown rules, traffic on city roads has increased considerably prompting the police to start signals.

According to PI Mukund Deshmukh, traffic signals will be operated between 10 am and 12 noon.

Following the outbreak of Covid-19, lockdown was imposed across the city from March 23. Curfew was imposed in the city and the traffic signals were closed since then. Now, the Union

Government has granted relaxations in the lockdown rules and people have started commuting on roads.

Even as the lockdown for the red zones in the city and district has been extended until June 30, the local administration has been authorised to lift the lockdown step by step. Accordingly, permission has been granted to open all shops from June 5, barring those in containment zones.

Moreover, residents after the relaxation in the rules, came out of their houses in large numbers. Considering the traffic on the roads, traffic signals at Mahavir Chowk, Kranti Chowk, Government Dudh Dairy Chowk, Akashwani Chowk, Jalgaon T-point will be operated between 10 am and 12 noon.

On the positive side, residents seem to be aware of the Covid-19 spread as many are using facemasks and following social distancing norms at traffic signals also.
